Introducción

Introduction

Bienvenidos a nuestro "Listado de Mariposas del Este de Ecuador", un suplemento esencial para nuestra "Guía Fotográfica de las Mariposas del Este de Ecuador". Juntos, ofrecen una visión completa de la diversidad de lepidópteros de la región. Ambos recursos están disponibles para su descarga gratuita en <https://www.butterflycatalogs.com/>, junto con guías adicionales para diferentes localidades, países y familias de mariposas.

Biodiversidad y División Geográfica La notable biodiversidad de Ecuador, en parte atribuida a la cordillera de los Andes, crea poblaciones distintas de mariposas en sus laderas este y oeste. La vertiente este, que desciende hacia las tierras bajas amazónicas, se caracteriza por condiciones más húmedas, mientras que la ladera oeste, más estrecha, desciende hacia la costa seca del Pacífico. Muchas especies de mariposas son exclusivas de un lado, con algunas especies del este

Welcome to our "Checklist of Butterflies of Eastern Ecuador," a vital supplement to our "Photo Guide to the Butterflies of Eastern Ecuador." Together, they offer a comprehensive overview of the region's lepidopteran diversity. Both resources are available for complimentary download at <https://www.butterflycatalogs.com/>, alongside additional guides for various locations, countries, and butterfly families.

Biodiversity and Geographic Division

Ecuador's remarkable biodiversity, partly attributed to the Andean mountain range, creates distinct butterfly populations on its eastern and western slopes. The eastern slope, leading to the Amazonian lowlands, is characterized by wetter conditions, whereas the narrower western slope descends towards the drier Pacific coast. Many butterfly species are exclusive to one side, with some eastern species extending from extendiéndose desde Venezuela y Colombia hasta Perú o Bolivia. Sin embargo, ciertas especies, como los satíridos Pronophilini de alta elevación y aquellas que prefieren hábitats alterados por humanos, están presentes en ambas laderas.

Listado y Colección Fotográfica Aunque nuestra colección fotográfica es extensa, aún no abarca todas las especies de esta región. Por lo tanto, el listado representa nuestro conocimiento actual, y reconocemos posibles omisiones. Creemos que probablemente hay especies adicionales aún por identificar y documentar.

Colaboración y Contribuciones Invitamos a investigadores, aficionados, fotógrafos, estudiantes y a la comunidad a contribuir con este esfuerzo. Sus fotografías o registros de especies que no figuran en nuestras guías son invaluable para mejorar nuestro entendimiento colectivo. Los esfuerzos colaborativos son cruciales para mantener la actualidad y precisión de nuestros recursos.

Evolución Continua Reflejando la diversidad dinámica de las mariposas del este de Ecuador, nuestra lista y guía fotográfica están en constante evolución. Estamos comprometidos a actualizarlas regularmente, incorporando nuevas especies y refinando la información a medida que surgen nuevos datos.

Metodología y Fuentes Para compilar esta lista, hemos confiado en diversas fuentes confiables, incluyendo los trabajos y sitios web de Pierre Boyer y Jean-Claude Petit, a quienes extendemos nuestra gratitud (consulte las páginas web recomendadas para ver sus sitios). Además, nuestra lista se enriquece con registros de nuestra extensa colección fotográfica, Mariposas de América (BOA) y avistamientos ecuatorianos de iNaturalist.

Venezuela and Colombia to Peru or Bolivia. However, certain species, like the high-elevation Pronophilini satyrs and those favoring human-altered habitats, are present on both slopes.

Checklist and Photographic Collection

While our photographic collection is extensive, it does not yet encompass all the species in this region. Thus, the checklist represents our current knowledge, and we acknowledge potential omissions. We believe there are likely additional species yet to be identified and documented.

Collaboration and Contributions

We invite contributions from researchers, enthusiasts, photographers, students, and the community. Your photographs or records of species not featured in our guides are invaluable for enhancing our collective understanding. Collaborative efforts are crucial for maintaining the currency and accuracy of our resources.

Continuous Evolution

Reflecting the dynamic diversity of Eastern Ecuador's butterflies, our list and photo guide are constantly evolving. We are committed to regular updates, incorporating new species and refining information as fresh data emerges.

Methodology and Sources

To compile this list, we've relied on various reputable sources, including the works and websites of Pierre Boyer and Jean-Claude Petit, for which we extend our gratitude (see recommended web pages for their sites). Additionally, our list is enriched by records from our extensive photographic collection, Butterflies of America (BOA), and Ecuadorean sightings from iNaturalist.

Scope and Limitations

Alcance y Limitaciones A pesar de nuestro enfoque exhaustivo, es posible que algunas especies que habitan en Ecuador no estén incluidas en nuestra lista. Damos la bienvenida a sus conocimientos y perspectivas para posibles adiciones o correcciones, mejorando la precisión y completitud de nuestro trabajo.

Objetivo Final: Conservación y Educación

Nuestro objetivo principal es fomentar el conocimiento y la apreciación de las mariposas de la región. Creyendo en el principio de "solo podemos proteger y conservar lo que conocemos", estas guías sirven tanto como herramientas de identificación como medios para promover la conservación. Esperamos que estos recursos sean de gran beneficio para todos los interesados en la rica biodiversidad de mariposas del este de Ecuador.

Descargue nuestro listado y guía fotográfica en <https://www.butterflycatalogs.com/>.

Despite our thorough approach, some species that live in Ecuador might not be included in our list. We welcome your knowledge and insights for potential additions or corrections, enhancing the accuracy and completeness of our work.

Final Objective: Conservation and Education

Our primary goal is to foster awareness and appreciation of the region's butterflies. Believing in the principle of "We can only protect and conserve what we know," these guides serve as both identification tools and mediums for promoting conservation. We hope these resources will significantly benefit everyone interested in the rich butterfly biodiversity of Eastern Ecuador.
